Price Gouging Experience:

I don't have an experience that I am aware of but my Question to you is to define what you believe price gouging is? One could say that all hospital prices are gouging. For example, a hospital charging for one pill what you could buy an entire box of that same pill for over the counter. Is that price gouging?? This I have experienced. I have received bills from the hospital that are NOT itemized - so how would you know ??? I think a better thing would be to consider hospitals mandatory itemizing bills. I have gotten a bill from the hospital that is associated to an outpatient surgery at a totally separate facility but the bill referred to nothing but a date. I think they should be made to itemize if only to say the procedure and the facility name associated. Thank you for your time. [REDACTED]
