Price Gouging Experience:

On [REDACTED] i took my daughter to the [REDACTED] at [REDACTED] Florida as she was throwing up for hours and was not able to keep anything down. I was at the hospital for little over one hour. They asked for a urine sample. The nurse gave my daughter a [REDACTED] pill to stop her throwing up and a popsicle to make sure she could keep the fluids down. There was no blood drawn, no x-rays. She never even got into a gown (she stayed in her sweat pants and t-shirt the entire time we were there). She was not given a blanket nothing. I gave her the garbage can off the ground to throw up in as they did not give her a bucket to throw up in. I was charged 4,500 dollars. I have the bills to show if needed. Thank you, [REDACTED]
