Price Gouging Experience:

Went to [REDACTED] on [REDACTED] 2015 for treatment on [REDACTED] I had surgery on the day before as wound was still bleeding. No one was waiting in the waiting room so I figured I'd get service soon. They took my medical insurance card and a man came out into waiting room and took my blood pressure. My wife and I were told to wait. After 40 minutes we left as no one came to treat my needs. On [REDACTED] 2015 I received a statement from the Hospital showing total charges of $855.00 and my share was $65.00. I reported this to my insurance company [REDACTED] in letter form and filled out a grievance form as I think charging $855.00 to have someone to check my blood pressure is way out of line. I have all the letters to prove my actions and the replies from [REDACTED]. They said they paid it as I received triage. Hell, I didn't even get a ONEIAGE!!!
